

The DEC's Division of Marine Resources is holding meetings to discuss the possibility of bringing the short-lived Salt Water Fishing License back. You may recall that some years ago one was adopted, but rescinded in short order [and, DEC had to deliver refunds]. I have never been able to reconcile myself into believing that salt water anglers should get what I see as a "free ride." I am posing this question to Federation clubs and members:

What is your position on a Saltwater Fishing License and WHY.

This not a scientific poll, just looking for input because we have someone looking out for our interests on Long Island.
